Reflective Diary 0

Project in Wireless Communication (EQ2440)

-Animesh Das

901101-0015

During the initial group meeting, the group members have divided he tasks and along with Xavier, I have worked for the project management part. Both of us divided the tasks internally between us and I mainly worked on designing the task calendar and resource allocation. I have managed to design the task calendar successfully, but due to my sickness, I was unable to finalize the resource allocation where Xavier came forward to do this part. I am really thankful to my group members for considering my physical issues and I will try my best to cover it up in the nest time.

The result of our work in this section is the Project Plan that can be found in the Group web as well as in the GitHub folder.

Moreover, as agreed by all the group members the approach to solve the problem of the project is decided as follows:

1. Start by the echo cancellation.

2. Continue with noise cancellation.

3. And finally the real time problem will be faced in the last part of the project, more precisely during the project implementation.